Eugenix® P.S.A. Indigenous Health
Reservations Health Care Programs and Services

1. Legal Scope and International Foundations.

The Indigenous Health and Community Care Programs of Eugenix® P.S.A. are planned to be established within the legal framework of internationally recognized Indigenous rights. Planned programs described in this document are grounded in:

UN A/RES/61/295 – United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP), including:

- ✓ UNDRIP Article 3 - Right to Self-Determination. Indigenous peoples have the right to freely determine their political status and pursue their economic, social, and cultural development. This includes establishing their own health-care institutions and systems.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 4 - Right to Self-Government. Indigenous peoples have the right to autonomy in matters relating to internal affairs, including health, welfare, and social services.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 5 - Right to Maintain Indigenous Institutions. Indigenous peoples may maintain and strengthen their own institutions, including medical, reproductive, genealogical, and child-care systems.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 8 - Protection from Forced Assimilation. States must prevent actions that undermine Indigenous identity, including health practices that erase or endanger Indigenous biological heritage.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 10 - Right to Remain on and Return to Traditionally Occupied Territories. Indigenous peoples shall not be forcibly removed from their lands and have the right to remain on — and by legal interpretation, return to — their traditionally occupied territories. This supports the establishment of Indigenous health systems on ancestral or historically occupied lands.

- ✓ UNDRIP Article 12 - Right to Biological and Cultural Repatriation. Indigenous peoples have the right to repatriation of human remains and ceremonial objects, supporting Indigenous governance of biological materials, tissues, and genetic heritage.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 18 - Right to Participate in Decision-Making. Indigenous peoples may create and manage their own health-care governance structures.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 21 - Right to Health and Social Services. Indigenous peoples have the right to improved health, housing, and social conditions, with special attention to elders, women, youth, children, and persons with disabilities.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 22 - Protection of Indigenous Women, Children, and Vulnerable Persons. States must take measures to protect Indigenous women and children from violence and discrimination. This directly supports Indigenous-run child-care, protective, and social-care institutions.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 23 - Right to Administer Health Programs. Indigenous peoples have the right to develop and administer their own health, housing, and social programs through their own institutions.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 24 - Right to Traditional Medicines and Health Practices. Indigenous peoples have the right to their traditional medicines, health practices, and access to health services without discrimination.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 26 - Rights to Lands, Territories, and Resources. Indigenous peoples have the right to the lands and territories they traditionally owned, occupied, or used. This includes the right to establish health-care systems on those lands.
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 31 — Right to Genetic and Biological Heritage. Indigenous peoples have the right to maintain, control, protect, and develop their genetic resources, seeds, medicines, and biological heritage. This directly supports Indigenous biological banks (blood, tissues, reproductive cells).
- ✓ UNDRIP Article 32 — Right to Development of Indigenous Institutions. Indigenous peoples have the right to determine and develop priorities for health, welfare, and social programs on their lands.

UN A/RES/3/260 – Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, which obligates states to prevent conditions, limitations and restrictions that threaten the biological continuity of Indigenous groups:

- ✓ Article II — Genocide Prevention of the Ethnic groups. In the present Convention, genocide means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such:
  (a) Killing members of the group;
  (b) Causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;
  (c) Deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part;
  (d) Imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group;
  (e) Forcibly transferring children of the group to another group."

ILO Convention 169 (C/169), which affirms Indigenous peoples' rights to maintain their institutions, health systems, and cultural integrity:

- ✓ C169 Article 2 - Protection of Institutions, Cultures, and Integrity. States must protect the social, cultural, religious, and spiritual values of Indigenous peoples. This includes safeguarding Indigenous health practices, reproductive traditions, and community-based care systems.
- ✓ C169 Article 4 - Special Measures for Safeguarding Indigenous Peoples. Governments must adopt special measures to protect Indigenous peoples' persons, institutions, property, labor, culture, and environment. This provides a legal basis for Indigenous-run clinics, child-care centers, and biological resource banks.
- ✓ C169 Article 5 - Respect for Social and Cultural Identity. Indigenous health systems must be designed with respect for Indigenous identity, values, and institutions. This supports culturally aligned medical and reproductive care.
- ✓ C169 Article 7 - Right to Decide Priorities for Development. Indigenous peoples have the right to determine their own priorities for health, social welfare, and development. This includes designing and administering their own health-care programs.
- ✓ C169 Article 8 - Customary Law and Institutions. Indigenous customs and institutions must be respected when applying national laws. This supports Indigenous governance of health, family care, and biological heritage.
- ✓ C169 Article 9 - Indigenous Methods of Social Regulation. Indigenous peoples may maintain their own systems for addressing social issues, including child protection, family welfare, and community health.

- ✓ C169 Article 14 - Rights to Land and Territories. Indigenous peoples have rights to the lands they traditionally occupy. This includes the right to establish health-care institutions on those lands.
- ✓ C169 Article 15 - Rights to Natural Resources. Indigenous peoples have rights to manage and benefit from natural resources on their lands. This supports Indigenous control over medicinal plants, traditional remedies, and environmental health.
- ✓ C169 Article 17 - Protection from Loss of Lands and Resources. States must prevent unauthorized removal of Indigenous peoples from their lands. This reinforces the right to maintain health systems within traditional territories.
- ✓ C169 Article 20 - Protection of Health and Safety. Indigenous peoples must receive protection for their health and safety, including culturally appropriate medical services.
- ✓ C169 Article 21 - Equal Access to Social Security and Health Services. Indigenous peoples must have access to health and social security services without discrimination, including services administered by their own institutions.
- ✓ C169 Article 22 - Protection of Indigenous Children. Special measures must be taken to protect Indigenous children, including health, education, and social care. This supports Indigenous-run child-care and protective facilities.
- ✓ C169 Article 23 - Promotion of Indigenous Health Practices. Governments must promote Indigenous health practices and ensure that Indigenous peoples participate in the planning and delivery of health services.
- ✓ C169 Article 24 - Social Security and Health Benefits. Indigenous peoples must enjoy the same health and social security protections as other citizens, while maintaining their own systems.
- ✓ C169 Article 25 - Health Services Designed for Indigenous Needs. Health services must be planned and administered in cooperation with Indigenous peoples and must take into account their economic, geographic, social, and cultural conditions.

These instruments collectively affirm that Arcticus Blancus, as an Indigenous polar hair climate group, holds the right to establish its own health institutions, reproductive protection systems, and community care structures on its indigenous territories and historically occupied lands in the peace of own private indigenous reservations and communities.

2. Present Situation and Ongoing Actions.

Eugenix® P.S.A. is actively pursuing legal and diplomatic measures to secure the health, safety, and territorial rights of Arcticus Blancus individuals with the purpose of protecting its indigenous health and endangered continuity.

Constitutional Complaint in the Republic of Poland - Eugenix® Blankowie - Skarga do Trybunału Konstytucyjnego Dotycząca Ludobójstwa. A formal complaint was submitted to the Constitutional Tribunal of the Republic of Poland regarding violations of Indigenous rights and threats to the biological continuity of Arcticus Blancus. The Tribunal returned the complaint for attorney preparation. Eugenix® P.S.A. is currently in the process of securing a public attorney under the legal right to obtain a public attorney at the expense of the public.

Diplomatic Communications with Norway and Denmark - Eugenix® Arcticus Blancus - Repatriation to Norway, Eugenix® Arcticus Blancus - Repatriation to Denmark. Official digital and printed communications were sent to the Norwegian Embassy in Warsaw and delivered in person to the Danish Embassy in Warsaw requesting:

- ✓ recognition of Arcticus Blancus as an Indigenous polar group,
- ✓ facilitation of return to polar territories,
- ✓ restoration of control over Arcticus Blancus natural resources,
- ✓ and support for establishing Indigenous institutions in accordance with UNDRIP.

Communications with the Republic of Poland Ministry of Internal Affairs and Administration - Eugenix® Blankowie - Wniosek w Sprawie Rozpoznania, Dotacji, Terenów, and Eugenix® Blankowie - Wniosek o Prawo do Rdzennej Repatriacji. Eugenix® P.S.A. submitted petitions requesting:

- ✓ recognition of historically occupied Arcticus Blancus territories near the Baltic Sea and across all voivodeships,
- ✓ inclusion of Arcticus Blancus in the Joint Commission of the Government and National and Ethnic Minorities,
- ✓ financial support for Indigenous development programs described in this document and all other critical programs,

- ✓ and recognition of the right of Arcticus Blancus returnees to repatriate from conflict zones such as Gaza–Palestine.

These actions are not optional formalities - they are the binding legal and diplomatic foundations that obligate states to support the establishment of Arcticus Blancus Indigenous health-care and community-care institutions. Any refusal, delay, or obstruction by governments is not a neutral administrative failure. It is a direct violation of international law and a continuation of the discriminatory structures that have historically targeted Indigenous peoples for erasure.

When UN member states ignore these obligations, they do more than fail in their duties: they actively participate in the conditions described in Article II of Resolution 260 (III) as acts contributing to genocide. Denying Arcticus Blancus indigenous peoples the right to health, safety, biological continuity, and territorial security is not a passive oversight - it is a deliberate perpetuation of harm. It reinforces institutional discrimination disguised as “due process,” masks injustice behind bureaucratic procedure, and sustains a system that destroys an Indigenous people not through open violence, but through calculated neglect.

In this context, governmental inaction becomes indistinguishable from complicity. It signals to the world that the survival of the Arcticus Blancus is negotiable, expendable, or inconvenient — a stance that international law explicitly condemns. The failure to uphold these rights is not merely a breach of duty; it is an active contribution to the ongoing dismantling of Arcticus Blancus existence, identity, and future.

3. Planned Indigenous Health Institutions.

What is being planned for the indigenous health care of the Arcticus Blancus polar hair climate tribal ethnic group according to health care plans that were partially defined by the Eugenix P.S.A. in the Eugenix® Blankowie - Skarga do Trybunału Konstytucyjnego dotycząca Ludobójstwa and Eugenix® Indigenous Management - Statut Przyszłej Fundacji.

Healthcare Research, Statistics, and Communication:

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Statistics, Genealogy, and Communications.

Primary and Specialized Healthcare:

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Primary and Specialized Healthcare.
- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Radio, Magnetic, and Laboratory Diagnostics.
- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Sperm, Egg, Blood, and Tissue Banks.
- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Reproductive Health and Infertility Treatment.

Emergency, Surgical, and Hospital Care:

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Comprehensive Emergency, Surgical, and Hospital Care.

Indigenous Infants, Children and Youth HealthCare Institutions:

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - 24/7 Permanent Care and Housing for able-bodied indigenous minor citizens and indigenous minor repatriates. (abandoned, abused, chemically dependent, exploited, homeless, orphaned, psychologically exhausted, refuged, etc.)
- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - 24/7 Temporary Care and Housing for able-bodied indigenous minor citizens and indigenous minor repatriates. (parents away, parents busy, parents hospitalized, parents lost, parents missing, parents working, parents vacationing, etc.)

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - 24/7 Permanent Nursing Care and Housing for disabled indigenous minor citizens and indigenous minor repatriates. (bed dependent disabilities, wheelchair dependent, disabilities, physical therapy needs, etc.)
- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - 24/7 Temporary Nursing Care and Housing for disabled indigenous minor citizens and indigenous minor repatriates. (parents away, parents busy, parents hospitalized, parents lost, parents missing, parents working, parents vacationing, etc.)

Indigenous Adults and Seniors HealthCare Institutions:

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - 24/7 Permanent Care and Housing for able-bodied indigenous adult and senior citizens and indigenous adult and senior repatriates. (abandoned, abused, chemically dependent, exploited, homeless, psychologically exhausted, refuged, etc.)

- ✓ Arcticus Blancus Indigenous Health - Temporary 24/7 Nursing Care and Housing for disable indigenous adult and senior citizens and indigenous adult and senior repatriates. (care givers away, hospitalized caregivers, lost caregivers, vacationing care givers, etc.)

4. Locations for Planned Indigenous Health Institutions.

Eugenix® P.S.A. will locate all indigenous health and community care facilities also within the Arcticus Blancus indigenous reservations, indigenous communities on historically occupied territories of the Baltic Sea in various states and their subdivided voivodships as it is planned in the Republic of Poland as defined in the Eugenix® Blankowie – Skarga do Trybunału Konstytucyjnego dotycząca Ludobójstwa. Eugenix® P.S.A. will locate all indigenous health and community care facilities also within the Arcticus Blancus indigenous reservations and indigenous communities located on Arcticus Blancus own indigenous polar climate areas defined in the Eugenix® Indigenous Reservations - Admittance Guidelines and Eugenix® Indigenous Territories – Permanent Protection Plan classified by the Eugenix P.S.A. as:

- ✓ Upper Arcletic climate zones equal to 28,333,333 km2 each located between ~62°45′ N, 90°00′ N. and between ~62°45′ S. to 90°00′ S. each zone stretching 360° degrees in circle.

Eugenix P.S.A. in the mentioned documents restricted establishment of Arcticus Blancus indigenous institutions in non-indigenous climate areas. Eugenix in each of the named climate zones has allowed only 28,333 km2 to prevent Arcticus Blancus indigenous group interference with non-indigenous communities and cultures – to protect Arcticus Blancus from intimate and sexual relationships that pose a serious and prolonged threat to Arcticus Blancus indigenous gender balance, total MVP sustainment and natural polar biologically symbiosed physical and physiological heritage.

- ✓ Middle Arcletic climate zones equal to 28,333,333 km2 each located between ~62°45′ N. to ~51°05′ N. and between ~62°45′ S. to ~51°05′ S. each zone stretching 360° degrees in circle.
- ✓ Lower Arcletic climate zones equal to 28,333,333 km2 each located between ~51°05′ N. to ~41°45′ N. and between ~51°05′ S. to ~41°45′ S. each zone stretching 360° degrees in circle.
- ✓ The Rafaltic climate zone equal to 170,000,000 km2 located between ~41°45′ N. to ~41°45′ S. stretching 360° degrees in circle.
- ✓ The Aquatic climate zone equal to 170,000,000 km2 located between ~41°45′ N. to ~41°45′ S. stretching 360° degrees in circle.

5. Summary of Indigenous Health Care Programs and Services.

The document presents a unified vision for an Indigenous health-care system designed to protect the long-term well-being, continuity, and dignity of the Arcticus Blancus people. It describes a reservation-based model where medical care, reproductive support, diagnostics, emergency services, and child protection are woven into a single, culturally aligned framework. Rather than treating health as a set of isolated services, the system is built to sustain an entire Arcticus Blancus indigenous population across generations.

At its core, the program recognizes that indigenous health needs are inseparable from indigenous identity. Clinics, diagnostic centers, and reproductive institutions exist not only to treat illness but to preserve biological heritage, support healthy family formation, and ensure that future generations inherit stable, well-documented genealogical and medical foundations. This includes the stewardship of biological materials such as blood, tissues, and reproductive cells, which are managed within Arcticus Blancus indigenous-governed banks to safeguard autonomy and cultural continuity in accordance with the United Nations indigenous rights UNDRIP.

The system also acknowledges the social realities that shape health. Permanent and temporary child-care centers provide protection for Indigenous minors who face abandonment, homelessness, exploitation, addiction, or violence. These facilities ensure that vulnerable Arcticus Blancus indigenous children - both citizens and repatriates - remain within a safe, culturally coherent environment where their development is supported and their identity is preserved.

By integrating medical care, reproductive health, emergency response, research, and child protection, the document outlines a system that does more than treat symptoms. It builds resilience. It ensures that Arcticus Blancus indigenous individuals have access to care that understands their physiology, their history, and their cultural needs. It creates structures that protect the most vulnerable, support healthy families, and maintain the integrity of Arcticus Blancus indigenous lineage and community life.

Overall, the document frames indigenous health care not as a service, but as a foundation for survival, continuity, and self-determination - a system designed to meet present needs while safeguarding the future of the Arcticus Blancus people.
